TIERA

HOUSE JOURNAL / 2012 / ARCHITECTURE

Rooms with a horizon winter

A deep window frames the water. Pale stone softens the glare while a shaded threshold extends the living space towards the sea.

This note is part of the 2012 Tiera house collection. The press office can arrange further background, interviews and a selection of photographs.