Citrus on the terrace early spring

A gardener picks a lemon in the cooler hours. Zest reaches the kitchen first; leaves and blossom perfume the path towards the lower terrace.

This note is part of the 2017 Tiera house collection. The press office can arrange further background, interviews and a selection of photographs.