The upper paths winter

Stone steps join the gardens above the house. From each turn there is a different view of the roofs and the water below.

This note is part of the 2023 Tiera house collection. The press office can arrange further background, interviews and a selection of photographs.